Message from the Minister

The purpose of the annual report is to update the public on progress towards the achievement of goals and objectives as identified in the department's three-year strategic plan. In January, 2010 a revised plan for 2008-11 was tabled in the House of Assembly. This was due to a change in the department's strategic approach to adult alternative justice.

During the past year, there has been a significant focus on the Adult Corrections Division. Through the efforts of departmental staff, in partnership with other departments and community-based individuals and agencies throughout the province, much progress has been made in implementing reforms within the provincial correctional system during the past year. These reforms were initiated in response to Decades of Darkness: Moving Towards the Light, the independent review of the provincial prison system. Improvements include additional staff resources, enhanced staff training, enhanced inmate programming and infrastructure upgrades.

The Department of Justice is committed to ensuring that it delivers services as efficiently and effectively as possible. This work is complex and must address the diverse needs of clients and the public overall. The ongoing partnerships which have been developed internally, cross-departmentally, nationally and internationally are invaluable to achieving the department's vision of a justice system that is accessible and understood, and which plays a key role in creating a fair, equitable and safe society where all people can pursue their lawful rights and freedoms.

As Minister of Justice and Attorney General, and in accordance with the Provincial Government's commitment to accountability, I hereby submit the Department of Justice Annual Report 2009-10. This Report was prepared under my direction, and my signature below indicates my accountability for the results reported.

Sincerely,

Departmental Overview

Mandate

The mandate of the Department of Justice derives primarily from the Executive Council Act. This mandate reflects the dual responsibilities of its Minister as both Minister of Justice and the Attorney General for Newfoundland and Labrador. While several other Canadian jurisdictions have separate ministries for Justice and Attorney General, the structure is consolidated in Newfoundland and Labrador. The department includes responsibility for administering the province's legal system. The principal components include administration of the courts, policing, adult corrections, secure youth justice services and victim services.

Reflecting the role and authority of the Attorney General, the Department of Justice provides legal services to the Crown including legal advice to departments, litigation, prosecution and legislative drafting services. Within this role, the department's central agency function requires it to provide ongoing policy advice and direction. This occurs within the department as well as throughout government and its agencies on matters of public interest and concern.

While the Executive Council Act is the primary legislative authority for the Department of Justice mandate, the policies, services and programs are also governed by 96 pieces of legislation which the Department of Justice is responsible for administering.

Employees

The department employs approximately 1,597 individuals including the Royal Newfoundland Constabulary (RNC). Additionally, pursuant to the Provincial Policing Services Agreement between the Provincial Government and the Federal Government, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) employs approximately 438 RCMP officers and 109 support staff to provide frontline policing services in over 50 locations throughout the province.

The overall gender breakdown for staffing in the department is approximately 48% female and 52% male. Advances are being made towards employment equity within sectors of justice that have historically been composed of disproportionate numbers of males to females. For example, the RNC and RCMP are pleased to report that female officers now comprise 19% of uniformed officers. This is now on par with national rates. The RCMP have established an Employment Equity and Leadership Committee to eliminate barriers in the workplace so that no person is denied employment opportunities for reasons unrelated to abilities.

Department of Justice officials and employees can be found throughout the province. The Department of Justice employs lawyers, police officers, social workers, psychologists, correctional officers, youth counsellors, deputy sheriffs, inland fish enforcement officers, information management specialists, administrators, financial managers, nurses and educators.

Budget

According to the Estimates of the Program Expenditure and Revenue of the Consolidated Revenue Fund 2009-10, the Department of Justice budget is $222,846,100.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP)

Each of the RCMP's 750+ employees in Newfoundland and Labrador play a vital role in the policing of over 430 communities in the province. Some accomplishments in 2009-10 include:

- ▣ The RCMP has 671.5 established positions in "B" Division (Newfoundland and Labrador). That equates to 524 Regular Member, 55 Civilian Member and 92.5 Public Service positions. Established positions are permanently established Division positions. This number does not reflect the total number of employees working in the province since it does not include casual employees such as the Guards and Matrons or persons working in the province under the Atlantic Region establishment;
- ▣ The RCMP Patrol Vessel Murray continued to be a presence in Newfoundland and Labrador waters. Responding to a general assistance call from the Canadian Coast Guard in August, the Murray located a disabled vessel with the operator and his two young children. The children were transferred to the police vessel where they were given the care they needed. The disabled vessel was towed to a safe port;
- ▣ In late 2009, members of the RCMP Drug Section at St. John's teamed up with the RNC Drug Section to dismantle an organized crime group transporting drugs from Vancouver, BC to Newfoundland and Labrador. Thirteen persons were arrested, and approximately $1 million worth of cocaine was seized;

- ▣ Members of Clarendville Bonavista District were kept busy in March when an ice storm ravaged the region. It was the worst storm to hit the Bonavista Peninsula in 25 years. RCMP members ensured the safety of the communities most vulnerable residents, with the aid of the RCMP's Mobile Command Post;
- ▣ The RCMP celebrated 35 years of female members in the Force. The first troop of 32 female Regular Members (Troop 17) arrived at the RCMP Academy on September 16th, 1974 to commence training. Newfoundlanders and Labradorians Cheryl LaFosse, Gail Courtney and Rosemary Russell-Coffey were among this ground-breaking troop;

- Cpl. Ann Noel of the Gander RCMP Drug and Organized Crime Awareness Section, with financial assistance from the Gander area Rotary Club, took a magical approach to educating our youth about drug use and good decision making. Magician Gary Summers was brought to the Grand Falls-Windor and Gander Districts to visit 11 schools, in five communities, and connected with over 3,000 students from preschool to grade 10;
- RCMP Labrador District organized and sponsored a visit to Labrador by award winning author/journalist/producer Brian Vallée. Since the publication of his latest books The War on Women and Life With Billy, Mr. Vallée has been the keynote speaker on criminal domestic violence at several events and conferences across the country. Mr. Vallée was the special guest speaker at the Violence Prevention Labrador Conference in October 2009, and travelled to communities in southern Labrador where he spoke with several groups on the topic of intimate partner violence;
- The RCMP joined forces with Eastern Health in the implementation of the Mobile Crisis Response Team (MCRT). This pilot project provides a mobile crisis response for people experiencing a mental health crisis. Focused primarily in the St. John's area, the team will travel to the Avalon East District communities of Holyrood and Bay Bulls, and will work in partnership with RCMP members in the district;
- RCMP members have made excellent use of their Standardized Field Sobriety Test/Drug Recognition Expert (SFST/ DRE) training and are one of the country's leaders in the detection and prosecution of drug impaired drivers. In 2009, nine RCMP and 13 RNC members attended the RCMP's national training program. The 37 SFST/DRE evaluations conducted by the RCMP and the RNC are indicative of the teamwork and dedication to making Newfoundland and Labrador's roads and communities safer;
- On June 1st, 2009, Roving Traffic Unit (RTU) members made one of the largest seizures of tobacco in the province when they stopped a motor home in the Steady Brook area and subsequently located 330 bags of contraband cigarettes, valued at $157,500; and,
- The Provincial Road Safety Vision (RSV) 2010 goal is to reduce the number of annual fatalities and serious injuries to 112 (or fewer). The total fatalities for 2009 was 107, a decrease of 20 over the previous year and below the 2010 goal. 33% fewer fatalities and serious injuries occurred on our roadways in 2009, compared to a six year average of 162. We will continue to emphasize the importance of Traffic Safety in 2010.

Strategic Issue 1: Family Violence

Goal 1:

By 2011, the Department of Justice will have developed a provincial planning process for Specialized Family Violence Intervention Courts.

Measure

Specialized Family Violence Intervention Court provincial planning process developed

The Family Violence Intervention Court is based on the principles of early intervention, victim safety and offender accountability. It is a contributing initiative towards the achievement of the Minister's strategic direction entitled Public Protection, Order and Safety. With support from the Poverty Reduction Strategy, the pilot court opened its doors on March 25, 2009 and has been operational since that time. Budget 2010 announced additional funding through the Poverty Reduction Strategy to continue this pilot for an additional year.

A request for evaluation proposals was advertised publicly in December 2009. By the end of January 2010 the successful consultant was hired, an evaluation framework was submitted to the evaluation committee for review and the evaluation framework was finalized. The evaluation was completed and the final report was submitted on March 25, 2010, exactly one year to the day of implementation. The report will be available in FY 2010-11.

The Department of Justice recognizes the important role partnerships have played in bringing this pilot to fruition. Specifically, the following internal and external partners played a key role in the preparation and implementation of the Family Violence Intervention Court pilot:

- ▣ Provincial Court of Newfoundland and Labrador;
- ▣ Public Prosecutions Division;
- ▣ Legal Aid Commission;
- ▣ Community Corrections;
- ▣ Victim Services;
- ▣ Royal Newfoundland Constabulary;
- ▣ Royal Canadian Mounted Police;
- ▣ Poverty Reduction Strategy;
- ▣ Violence Prevention Initiative;
- ▣ John Howard Society;
- ▣ Iris Kirby House; and,
- ▣ Transition House Association of Newfoundland and Labrador.

Strategic Issue 2: Public Prosecutions Revitalization

Goal 2: By 2011, the Department of Justice will have revitalized the Public Prosecutions Division.

Measure

Public Prosecutions Division revitalized

The recommendations of the Lamer Commission of Inquiry in June 2006 prompted the implementation of many enhancements to the operations of the Public Prosecutions Division. Furthermore, an internal review of the Division resulted in 39 additional recommendations.

Some of the enhancements made in 2008-09 included increased case supports and supervision for prosecutors, the establishment of unit working groups and the implementation of a mentoring process.

In 2009-10, further work was completed. New document handling procedures were implemented, central registry staff were hired, standards and mechanisms were established for the management of information and the central file registry was operationalized.

This work is consistent with the Minister's strategic direction entitled Public Trust and Confidence.

Objective 2.2 By 2010, the Public Prosecutions Division will have implemented new document handling procedures.

Measure

New document handling procedures implemented

Indicators

Actual Results

Central registry staff hired

- All positions related to the Central File Registry have now been filled. There are four staff persons including one supervisor.

Standards and mechanisms established for the management of information

- Standards and mechanisms have been established for the management of information. A manual outlining the proper procedures for the use of the Central File Registry has been completed. At year end it was being reviewed by the Eastern Regional Office prior to its implementation.
- A committee with Prosecutions' representatives from across the province has been established to review the standards within each office as they relate to file maintenance and organization. This committee has successfully implemented standards for commonly used documents to ensure uniformity throughout the Division. It continues to work to ensure consistent standards in all of the Public Prosecutions Offices and to implement changes as required.

Central file registry operational

- The Division has expanded the use of its Intranet site. This facilitates the mentoring of junior prosecutors by increasing accessibility to internal documents created by other prosecutors across the province. This helps to ensure consistency in practice throughout all of the regional offices.
- The central file registry is operational. It is providing more effective management of files through the Eastern Office, which has approximately 2,000 active files on a daily basis.

Strategic Issue 3: Labrador and Aboriginal Responses

Goal 3:

By 2011, the Department of Justice will have further enhanced the interpretation and translation capacity and services within the justice system.

Measure

Enhanced access to the provincial justice system for Aboriginal people

Labrador and Aboriginal responses continue to be a priority for the Department of Justice and this is consistent with the Minister's strategic direction entitled Labrador and Aboriginal Responses. There have been many enhancements to the interpretation and translation capacity within the justice system. Some of the achievements to date include the development of legal glossaries in Inuttitut, Mushuau Innu-aimun and Sheshatshiu Innu-aimun for both criminal and family law. Course curriculum was developed for Criminal and Family Law Interpretation. Courses were delivered in interpreting for both Criminal and Family Law. Staff sessions were held on cultural awareness and best practice in the use of interpreters. In 2009-10 sessions were made available to interpreters to support best practices in interpreter skills. Additionally, the department entered into a contract with the Sheshatshiu Innu First Nation to deliver interpreting services in Provincial Court in Happy Valley-Goose Bay. The service will become operational early in April 2010.

The Department of Justice has gained a new level of understanding and appreciation for language issues as a result of extensive efforts in the area of oral interpretation and written translation. The department has willingly shared these lessons (such as the distinct meanings of interpreting and translation and their associated skill sets) with other departments and our partner agencies.

Objective 3.2 By 2010, the Department of Justice will have designed and delivered instruction and training on the use of translation resources.

Measure

Instruction and training on the use of translation resources designed and delivered

Indicators

Actual Results

Instruction and training identified or designed, as required

- A DVD and resource guide entitled Ethical Challenges for Court and Community Interpreters was identified and purchased from the Vancouver Community College. Three facilitators were contracted to deliver training sessions based on this resource material in Sheshatshiu, Nain and Natuashish. The identification of the resource materials made it unnecessary to develop new materials.

Sessions held for staff on best practices in the use of interpreters in the justice system

- Sessions took place in Nain (March 23, 2010) and Sheshatshiu (March 30, 2010). Due to unforeseen circumstances, the Natuashish session was delayed and will now be held early in FY 2010-11.
- Work towards the achievement of this indicator began earlier than anticipated in March 2009. Three consultants were contracted to deliver sessions with staff on best practices in the use of interpreters. One of the sessions incorporated cultural information. In addition to these sessions, a session occurred with justice officials in Happy Valley-Goose Bay on March 31, 2010. An agenda item for this meeting was to share information regarding the interpreter refresher sessions which had occurred in Nain (March 23, 2010) and Sheshatshiu (March 30, 2010).

Strategic Issue 4: Criminal Justice System Efficiencies

Goal 4:

By 2011, the Department of Justice will have enhanced efficiencies within the criminal justice system in St. John's.

Measure

Enhanced criminal justice system efficiencies

"The mandate of the Task Force was to examine the operation of the criminal justice system in St. John's, Newfoundland and Labrador with particular emphasis on the processing of cases in St. John's Provincial Court and to make practical recommendations to increase efficiency and reduce delay without compromising fundamental principles of justice."

Report of the Task Force on Criminal Justice Efficiencies

Since the release of the Report of the Task Force on Criminal Justice Efficiencies in 2008, significant effort has gone into realizing the changes identified in the report. Through these changes, improvements have been achieved in timeframes when accused persons are released by police to appear in court; improved information about and access to Legal Aid through a new Legal Aid office in Provincial Court and through police information and referral practices; improved disclosure procedures; the development of a Crown Guidebook which provides direction to Prosecutors on a range of issues addressed in this and other reviews/reports which make recommendations on Crown practices; appointment of retired judges to serve as required; and greater use of technology. This progress has been possible because of a dedicated group of individuals and their organizations who have worked and continue to work to see these changes implemented. The organizations/offices that have worked on their own internal practices as well as collectively to advance these changes include the police, Public Prosecutions, Legal Aid, the private bar, and of course Provincial Court. While the original focus was and remains St. John's Provincial Court some of the changes are also occurring in other centres as a matter of practice on the part of many of the partner agencies. Significant work continues in the area of electronic disclosure and scheduling.

Objective 4.2 By 2010, the Department of Justice will have implemented recommendations of the Task Force on Criminal Justice Efficiencies.

Measure

Recommendations of the Task Force on Criminal Justice Efficiencies implemented

Indicators

Actual Results

Court Utilization Manager hired at Provincial Court

Central electronic scheduling system utilized at Provincial Court

Case Assignment and Retrieval system (CAAR) implemented at Provincial Court

Electronic disclosure implemented

- A Court Utilization Manager was hired at Provincial Court in December 2009.
- The requirements for the scheduling system have been researched, assessed and determined. This process took longer than originally anticipated and the request for proposals for the required system will now be issued early in FY 2010-11.
- The Case Assignment and Retrieval system has been implemented at the Provincial Court in St. John's.
- The RNC implemented electronic disclosure in February, 2010 for impaired driving and shoplifting charges. Results and any associated issues will be reviewed after a sufficient period of time. The Crown has also begun utilizing electronic disclosure for some of its larger files. This occurred in St. John's and in other regions. Progress and developments continue in this area.

Opportunities and Challenges Ahead

Both Federal and Provincial governments have introduced significant amendments to legislation which are expected to come into force within the next several years. These changes require coordinated efforts by all justice participants to ensure smooth implementation of the new legislation.

Increased use of technology provides opportunity for more efficient practices and information sharing amongst justice participants. It also creates challenges for the organization because of the pace at which technology changes. There is a constant requirement to remain up-to-date with the implementation of new technology and to meet the associated training requirements.

Access to technology also impacts the frequency of certain types of crime including international crime. This is evidenced by arrests of international visitors who, for example, are importing child pornography through technological devices or who are engaging in internet relationships with children or youth through visits to this country. Population growth and the vibrant economy may have the effect of attracting different sorts of crime and this has to be continuously monitored in order to determine the best approaches to deter and address such activity.

Justice is an area that garners much media attention. This can present challenges to ensure that appropriate information is provided, balanced with the recognition of the rights of all clients of the justice system. It has the additional affect of identifying areas where more public education would be beneficial.

Adult Corrections

The department is continuing to move forward with the implementation of the recommendations contained in the independent review of the provincial prison system. During the past year, substantial progress has been made, with 73 of the 77 recommendations having been either completed or in varying degrees of progress. In 2010-11 new staffing resources such as correctional officer positions will be created in rural areas, further specialized programming and development will take place to address the needs of Aboriginal offenders, and infrastructure improvements are planned for facilities such as the Newfoundland Labrador Correctional Centre for Women. Also, the department is in the process of drafting new legislation to replace two Acts: the Prisons Act and the Adult Corrections Act. The purpose of the new legislation will be to provide the legal framework necessary to provide a safe, secure, and humane environment for inmates and staff.

It is important to note that while there have been many accomplishments, there is still further work that needs to be done. Significant effort and long-term planning are necessary to achieve the desired cultural shift. This shift will need ongoing support and monitoring.

Access to Information and Protection of Privacy Act Review

The Access to Information and Protection of Privacy Act came into force in January 2005 and is now scheduled for a mandatory five year review of its provisions and operations. On March 17, 2010 the Minister of Justice appointed John Cummings, Q.C. as the Commissioner. The review process will invite public feedback through a provincial public hearing process. The report of findings and recommendations is due in late Fall 2010. The hearings will provide a valuable opportunity for public input and inclusion in a significant legislative review process.

Strategic Directions

Strategic directions are the articulation of desired physical, social or economic outcomes and normally require action by more than one government entity. These directions are generally communicated by Government through platform documents, Throne and Budget Speeches, policy documents, and other communiqués. The Transparency and Accountability Act requires departments and public bodies to take into account these strategic directions in the preparation of their performance-based plans. This action will facilitate the integration of planning practices across Government and will ensure that all entities are moving forward on key commitments.

The directions related to the Department of Justice are provided in the tables that follow. Each strategic direction is comprised of a number of components or focus areas. Electoral Boundaries Commission

The Electoral Boundaries Commission was active in 2006, however, it is currently disbanded. The Electoral Boundaries Commission will be appointed again in 2016, at which time, it will meet its planning and reporting requirements as appropriate under the Transparency and Accountability Act.

In the interim, this appendix will serve to describe the activities of the Commission when it is active as prescribed in the Electoral Boundaries Act.

Overview

The Electoral Boundaries Act states the Electoral Boundaries Commission shall consist of five members. The chairperson is to be appointed by the Chief Justice of Newfoundland and Labrador and the additional four members are to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Assembly.

The Commission is responsible to the Minister of Justice and its financial information is included in the financial information for the Department of Justice.

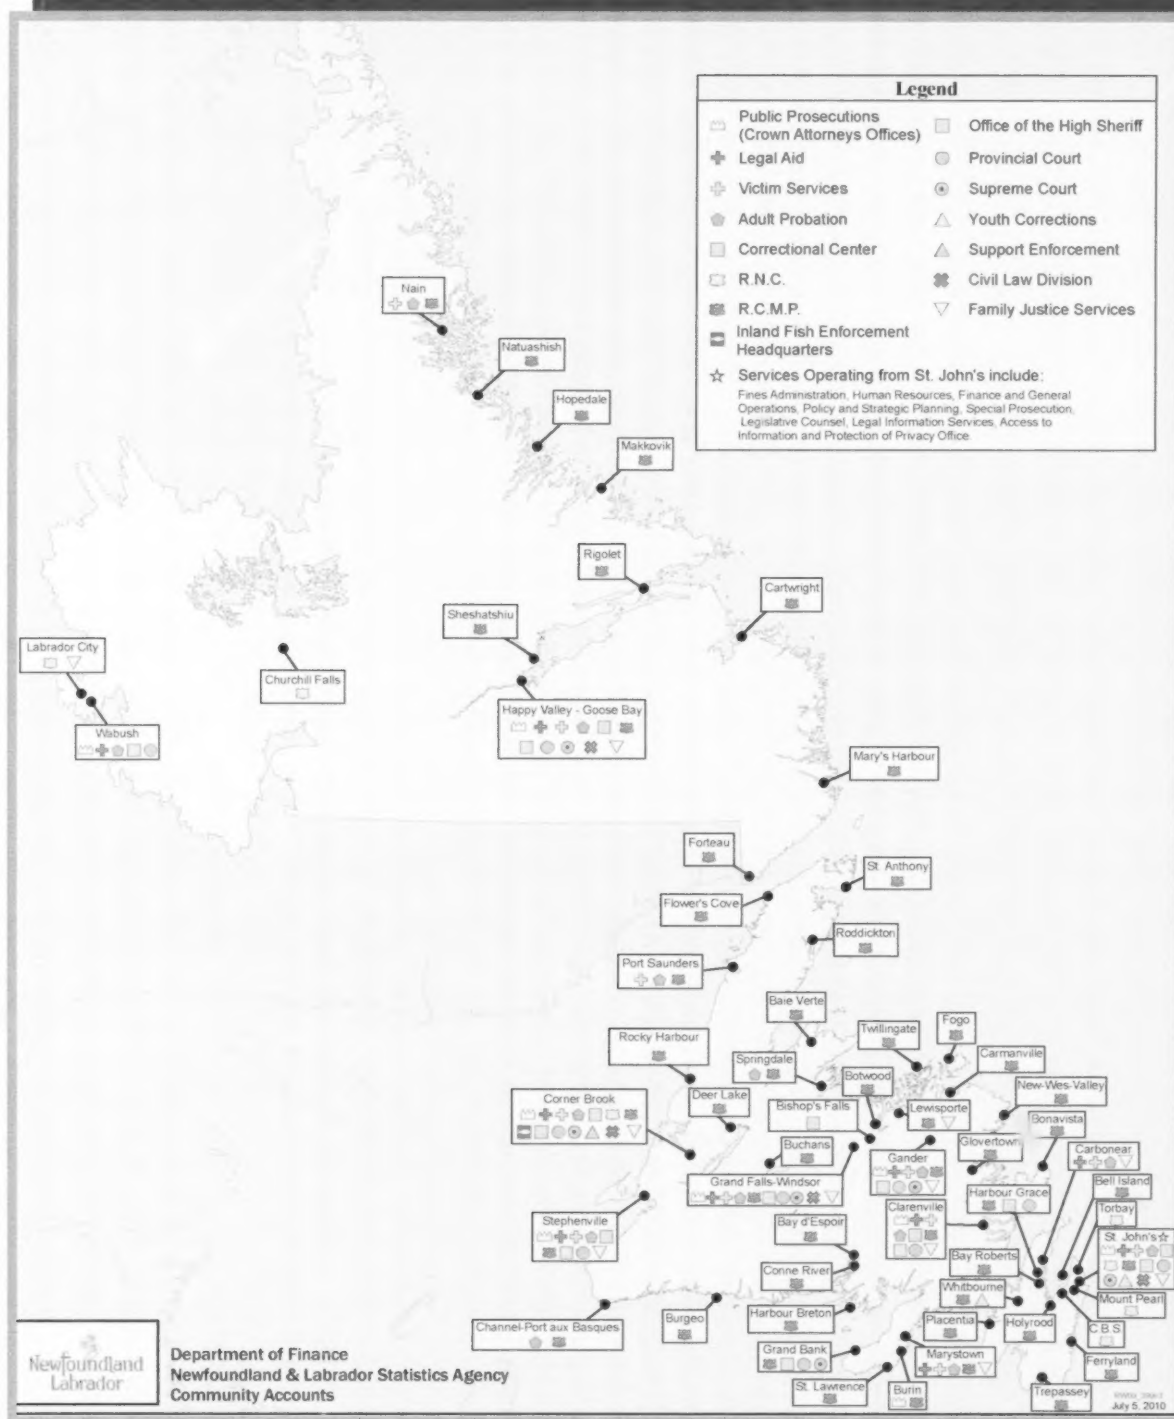

Mandate

The Commission is directed to divide the province into 48 proposed 1-member districts. The Act provides that the Commission divide the Labrador portion of the province into four proposed districts and shall describe the boundaries of those districts in such a manner that the proposed new districts conform as closely as practicable to the present districts. With regard to the island portion of the province, the Commission shall determine the boundaries by obtaining a quotient for each proposed district by dividing the total population of the province (except that portion of the total population living within the area of the province comprising Labrador) by the number 44.

The Commission shall assume that the proportion of electors to the general population is constant throughout the province. Where the Commission considers it necessary to do so, they may depart from the quotient not to a greater extent than 10% more or 10% less of the quotient. The Commission may also recommend the creation of a district with a population that departs from the quotient up to 25% more or 25% less of the quotient, where the Commission concludes that the departure is warranted by special geographic considerations.

The Commission will submit a report to the Minister of Justice setting out its recommendations concerning the division of the province, the description of the boundaries and the name to be given to each district, which names shall incorporate the historical and geographical factors that the Commission considers appropriate.

Appendix E: Newfoundland and Labrador - Where We Work

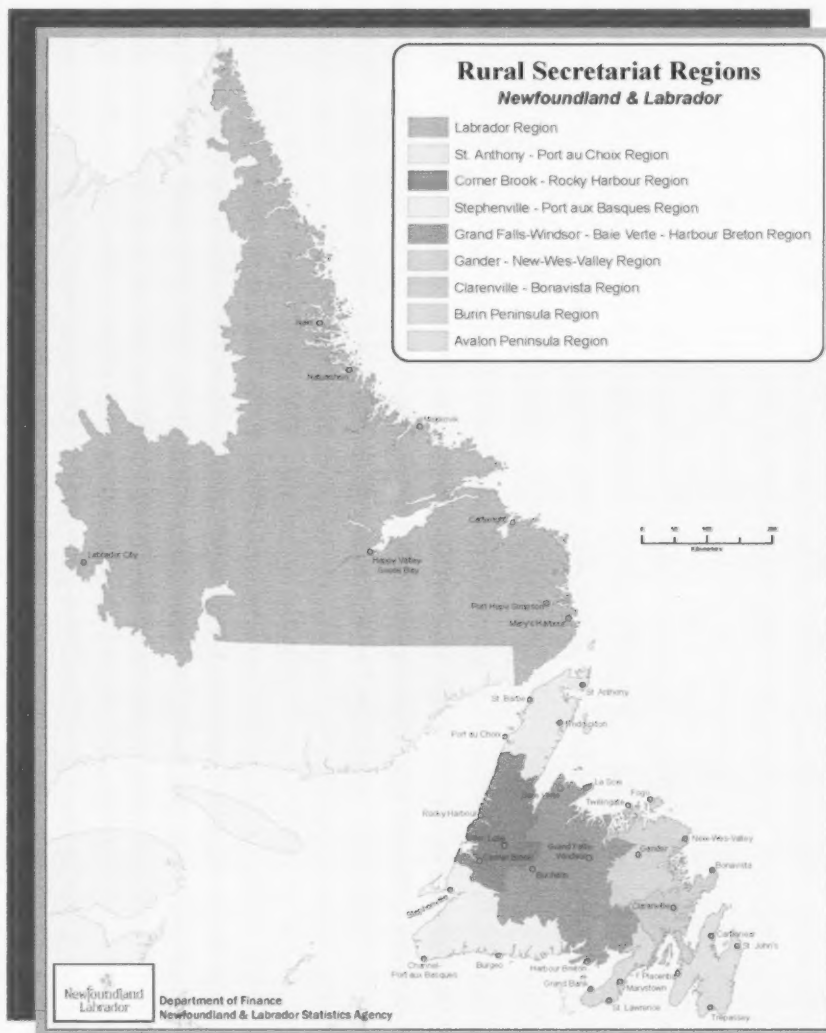

This section is intended to provide some information about the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador in order to provide a context for where the Department of Justice delivers services. The information provided here is divided based on the nine regions of the Rural Secretariat.

The Rural Secretariat is a unique and innovative provincial government entity that strives to advance the sustainability of rural Newfoundland and Labrador communities and regions. It does this by: supporting the development of citizen-based policy advice; engaging citizens in the future of their province; and by supporting collaboration between and among rural stakeholders including governments. For more information on the Rural Secretariat please visit <http://www.exec.gov.nl.ca/rural/>.

The following information was provided by the Community Accounts. This innovative information system provides users with a reliable source of community, regional and provincial data. The Community Accounts provides users with a single comprehensive source of community, regional, and provincial data that would normally not be readily available, too costly to obtain, or too time consuming to retrieve and compile.

Under this structure, information can be retrieved according to 400 communities, 80 census consolidated subdivisions (local areas), 20 economic development zones, and the province. Information can also be retrieved at the level of Rural Secretariat Regions, Health Authorities, School Districts, and Human Resources Development Canada Regions.

Community Accounts

Sharing Data Providing Information Developing Knowledge

The Community Accounts is the first Internet-based data retrieval and exchange system in Canada with unrestricted access to view and analyze data down to the community level. It provides citizens and policy makers with a single comprehensive source of key social, economic, and health data and indicators that would not be readily available, too costly to obtain, or too time consuming to manually or otherwise retrieve and compile. For more information on the Community Accounts please visit: <http://www.communityaccounts.ca/communityaccounts/online/getdata.asp>.
